HUNG JURY SAVED THE DAY FOR BOBBED HAIR

The bobbed hair and a narrow escape of being put out of business last Monday night at Lake Tabernacle when a jury failed to convict Mrs. N. O. Bracy, a prominent society matron for bobbed hair, was a very close shave.

A complaint was filed against Mrs. Bracy by the Lane Tabernacle, Mrs. Bracy, by the Lane Tabernacle, Mrs. Bracy, by the Lane Tabernacle.

On the time of the challenge of the jurors, until the report, "hung jury," interest was shown by the sympathizers of each side in selecting the jury.

The husband, who had been in the hospital, was the first to be disqualified by admitting that he was prejudiced against the defendant.

The case was tried with all the formalities of a regular court. Challenges, objections sustained and overruled, and the jury was sworn.

At the close of the trial, the jury was called to the fore and the verdict was read.

The jury, after a long deliberation, returned a verdict of "not guilty."

ARROW BOYS

Mr. Wm. Howell says we no longer have to "Wonder what became of Sally." You'll find her "Running Wild" with the gay Arrows, Tuesday, Feb. 17, at their third anniversary dance, at Lythian Hall. This club event promises to lure the largest crowd ever assembled at the Lythian Hall. The boys had under a dazzling spotlight, a kind of optical illusion possession you and you don't know whether to doff the hat or slough away the hand as a friendly male salute. Nothing pleases the girls thinking seriously and they steal their hearts. Very well repeat if you are not sure of the club's very day dance, you will miss the greatest, entertaining event of the season.

TWENTY MINUTES IN HELL
DELAIED TILL THURS. NIGHT
AT BOOKER WASHINGTON

Bob Russell did not put on "Twenty Minutes in Hell" until Thursday night at the Booker Washington Theatre this week. The first half of the week, however, showed a fast speed musical comedy of the typical Russell type, and the big audiences were well pleased.

On Thursday night the entire program was changed. The opening was a shadow screen specialty in which the performers acted behind a thin curtain, their shadows only being visible. It represented things on a street in the underworld district and usually the participants had to flow to save their lives. This had the appearance of them ascending into the air.

A number of specialties followed including: a song "Jodelin" by Carle Williams; two numbers as "Street Sweepers" in a round of sarcastic squabbling and eccentric dancing; a medley of choruses and dances by the company; acrobatic dancing by James Williams; a comedy sketch, "The Monkey Man"; Rodgers and girls; an artistic dance; Baby Mack and company with an underworld song and dance; Eleanor Wilson and girls singing and dancing "In Gosh South."

The sketch "Twenty Minutes in Hell" closes the show. It presents a number of characters who are doomed to hades for misdeeds on earth. Lady as the devil, and Robinson as his comical assistant are two leading characters. It's a comedy drama and entertaining. Robinson succeeds in buying the power to rule hell and transform after destroying the devil. The entire show is good, and it is pleasing large crowds.

SANDY BURNS AND COMPANY
AT THE BOOKER NEXT WEEK

Sandy Burns will return to the Booker Washington next week with an entire new show. This is one of the top-notch entertainers on the stage and the outfit make a big hit in an engagement a few weeks ago can always depend upon "P. P. Ashes" for the best.

"CHOCOLATE DANDIES" IS BIG PRESENTATION PRODUCTION

Noble Sissle and Eubie Blake and their massive company of players are at the American Theatre this week, presenting "Chocolate Dandies." The production is filling the house at each performance. The show is equally as good if not better than "Shuffle Along." Blake never played the piano as he is doing this week. Whether in the pit or on the stage, he is the center of attraction. In the studio with Sissle, the pair score as big a hit that they have to ease away from the audience.

The production is pretentious as to grand presentation, settings and costumes. There are a number of beautiful scenes. The singing and dancing numbers all draw encores, sometimes several.

The action centers on the last day of the "Hawthorne Fair." There is a horse race with three real horses and jockeys. The horse owned by "Slow," played by Lew Ferguson, is about to bankrupt the Afro-American bank in handling Miss. the directors elect Mose president, though he cannot read and write, and then vote methods of finance upon him to such effect that in a few minutes his $10,000 has shrunk to a dime. At the same time, he is convinced that he has really earned $111,110. Mose serves as president, but he runs all the employees away and finally absconds himself. There is much fun in the show at the bank. Jimmie Ferguson, as the porter, makes a big hit with his pantomime accompanied by Ben Smith on the cornet.

Space will not permit a detailed mention of all the many features and performers. The production of the kind makes a bigger hit than ever, and W. A. Ham has a special number singing "Old Black Joe." He and Ivan H. Brown, showing with song numbers, especially "Jas. and Liza." and "I'm a Fool for Love." Mr. Sissle is always in evidence, and Mr. Sissle, Josephine Baker, and other stars are usual dashes. The engagement is for this week only.

THE JESTERME
Robert McKim and an all-star cast will be featured in "Out Of The Dust" at the Jesterme, starting Saturday.

The attraction for Sunday, Monday and Tuesday is "The Sign Of The Cross." The story based on life in the old Dutch settlement of New Amsterdam in the latter part of the last century, tells the story of a girl who has been abandoned by her father and who is the wife of a stolid Dutch farmer. The story is a tale of the hardships and sufferings of a Dutch girl. A baby son is all that makes her life worth while. The story is told, she realizes the time when he will become "soo-o big" in this world of affairs.

William Christy Cabanne's thrilling love story, "The Sixth Commandment" will be the Wednesday special.

"Neglected Women" will be the Star Theatre special this Saturday. Circumstantial evidence that nearly

LOOK CLOSELY

Look closely at the next beautiful lady you see. Observe that she has no wrinkles, no lines, no sagging, no sunken eyes, no yellow, faded skin. But that her skin is so soft, velvety and smooth, her teeth are pearly and her hair beams with health; which bespeaks its good and frequent treatment. To be beautiful when looked at closely, you should use Madam C. J. Walker's Supreme Preparations for the Hair and Skin. If your Walker agent or drug store can't supply you with these beauty aids, write direct to The Madam C. J. Walker Mfg. Co., Inc., 618 N. West Street, Indianapolis, Ind.
